

DEPARTMENT OF AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES RESEARCH METHODS COURSE MENU

The following is a list of the possible WCAS graduate and senior-level courses (plus two [*] from the School of Education and Social Policy) that could be taken to fulfill the research methods requirement. Graduate students, in consultation with the graduate faculty advisor, will select the course(s) appropriate to their field of study and research orientation.

This list is not exhaustive. Other class suggestions should be sent to Celeste Watkins-Hayes (c-watkins@northwestern.edu)

Economics 336: Analytic Methods for Public Policy Analysis
Economics 380: Mathematical Economics: Game Theory
Economics 481: Econometrics
Human Development and Social Policy 451: Introduction to Research Methods *
Learning Sciences 451: Advanced Qualitative Methods *
Math 304: Game Theory
Political Science 311: Methods of Political Research
Political Science 403: Introduction to Probability and Statistics
Political Science 409: Mathematics for Political Science
Psychology 450: Fundamentals of Statistics
Psychology 451: Statistics in Experimental Design
Psychology 453: Linear Models: Correlation and Regression
Psychology 455: Quantitative Syntheses of Research
Sociology 401: Statistical Analysis of Social Data: Applied Regression Methods I
Sociology 401: Analysis of Social Data: Statistics and Methods
Sociology 402: Event-History Analysis
Sociology 403: Methods of Social Research
Sociology 405: Research Methods
Statistics 420: Introduction to Statistical Theory and Methodology
Statistics 454: Time Series Analysis
Anthropology 362 Advanced Methods in Quantitative Analysis
Anthropology 389: Ethnographic Methods and Analysis
Anthropology 461: Methods of Linguistic Anthropology
History 405, Seminars in Historical Analysis: A varying menu of courses in methodology and/or theory.
<http://www.history.northwestern.edu/graduate/courses.html>
History 570, I and II: 1st year Research Seminar. A two-quarter course
<http://www.history.northwestern.edu/graduate/courses.html>
Performance Studies 516, I and II: Critical/Performance Ethnography: Practicum
http://www.communication.northwestern.edu/departments/performancestudies/newsletter/Spring_08.pdf
Theatre 501 (note also listed as a methods course in English): Doctoral Studies in Theatre and Drama Research Methods
<http://www.english.northwestern.edu/courses/documents/Grad%20English%20Notes.pdf>